

NEPA Requirements for LPA Projects

Joce Pritchett, P.E., Pritchett Engineering & Planning

The National Environmental Policy Act was created in 1969, requiring agencies using federal funds for projects to disclose the potential impacts the project would have on the national and human environments. In practice, this can be a complicated effort! This presentation will discuss the processes and procedures expected by MDOT and FHWA to navigate the NEPA process for Local Public Agency projects to get project funds flowing.

Jocelyn Pritchett is a PE with 15 years of experience working on NEPA projects with the Mississippi DOT. She is a 1990 Civil Engineering graduate of MSU and a 1999 graduate of Georgia Tech, holding masters degrees in Civil Engineering and City Planning. Her 20 year career has focused almost entirely on Transportation. She currently owns a small private practice in Flowood, MS.
